The “chronological or narrative approach” is a highly effective method for evangelism and “making disciples”. Although it is not new this approach to sharing the Gospel is now being used with great success in evangelistic outreach among people groups of vastly different educational and cultural backgrounds. These groups range from uneducated tribal peoples in remote areas of the world to students and professionals in many cities and universities.

This seminar introduces the book entitled “The Stranger on the Road to Emmaus” which is written by JOHN CROSS, a missionary, author and lecturer.

More than a book - A new outreach tool

This book systematically lays a solid foundation for understanding the Gospel. It follows God’s pattern of progressively revealing Himself and His plan of redemption within the context of history.

This well outlined and illustrated material begins in Genesis and progresses through the Old Testament and the life of Christ highlighting the key redemptive truths and viewing the Scriptures as an integrated whole - one story - God’s Story.

*Providing a strategic tool for Equipping believers for the work of ministry

- A clear and simple explanation of the glorious Gospel of God’s grace
- Covers key biblical events, viewing them in the context of the whole story of God’s glory, His plan of history, and redemption of those who believe
- Creation to the Ascension of Christ in 15 well-outlined & illustrated chapters
- Ideal for use in personal study, Bible study groups, training classes, one-to-one evangelism or discipling

Cost: The only cost is a £7 fee covering registration, textbook and other materials (£2.50 if participant already has the book).
